We, the members of the Cambridge City Council, support the actions of the "Citizens for Community Radio". We feel, as they do, the lack of adequate notification prevented interested individuals and groups from protesting the proposed sale at the formal hearing before the Federal Communication Commission. We appreciate the various services that WCAS renders to the community groups of Cambridge. And recognize the fact that the opportunity to get air time, which these groups now enjoy, will no longer exist if the sale is finalized. Furthermore, we feel that the best interests of the citizens of Cambridge would not be best served by replacing the existing programming with one that is religiously oriented since the Cambridge area is already adequately serviced by a station with a religious format.

Therefore we recommend that the F.C.C. re-open its hearings pertaining to the sale of WCAS, and give those interested an equal opportunity to present their case against the sale of WCAS.

To the Councilors,

I would greatly appreciate if you, as individuals, would write a personal letter of protest, using the outline of the resolutions and or, another reasons which might have for being opposed to the sale. Address to:
