Cambridge, July 12, 19⁸⁸

To the Honorable, the City Council of the City of Cambridge:

The undersigned respectfully pray

Au Bon Pain is requesting permission to allow outdoor seating at our Kendall Square location at 238 Main Street. This outdoor cafe will consist of 12 tables and 48 chairs using 260 square feet of space and only being utilized between April 15 and October 15. No alcoholic beverages are sold at this location; our menu consists of sandwiches, soups, breads, muffins, croissants and coffee (copy of menu attached). Au Bon Pain will control the maintenance of the cafe by having customer service representatives pick up throughout the day and having managers supervise this task. As necessary, on a nightly basis, Au Bon Pain will sweep and wash the sidewalk and furniture of the cafe.

We believe the sandwich cafe will create a pleasant atmosphere in the Kendall Square area. Au Bon Pain has come before the City Council previously and you were gracious enough to allow us permission for a cafe at our Harvard Square location. We would expect this cafe, although not similar in size, to be as well received by the community.

Muffin Wrappes™

We bake muffins that are more than just muffins. They're Muffin Wrappes: fresh muffins bundled in flaky puff pastry. We start with recipes for great muffins. Banana topped with chopped walnuts. Fresh Baked Croissants

We're the ones who bake their croissants at least 5 times a day. What could be fresher than that? We also use the finest ingredients including our own blend of flours and 100% AA sweet creamery butter. In fact, we're so concerned about quality we top our croissants with a special egg wash for the best golden brown color and an extra flaky crust. We even toast our own almonds. After all, the smallest details can make a big difference.

Hearth Breads

The finest all-natural breads have become a tradition with us. And no wonder. We use our own recipes and our own blend of flours. Our special ovens rotate the bread for even baking and inject steam for an extra crispy, crunchy crust. And, of course, we bake our bread fresh every day. So whether you choose one of our traditional white breads or our rich hearth breads, you know you've chosen the best.

Café Beverages

When it comes to variety, our beverages go on and on. We start with what has to be the freshest coffee around. After all, we serve it within 30 minutes of brewing. Then there are our specialty coffees like frothy cappuccino and café au lait. Plus icy cold drinks including Orangina from France, a distinctively different blend of orange and tangerine juices with a bit of spritz. Whatever beverage you like, you'll like our selection.

Freezing & Reheating

How to freeze and reheat our croissants. Since they don't have any preservatives, our breads and croissants are best eaten the day you buy them. But if you'd like to keep them for later, here's how: To freeze croissants, wrap in aluminum foil or a heavy plastic bag and store in your freezer for up to 2 months. To reheat, let the croissants thaw for 30 minutes at room temperature, then place in a 350° oven for 10–15 minutes. (Spinach and apple croissants take longer than most; almond croissants require less time.)

To freeze bread, wrap it in aluminum foil and keep in the freezer up to a month. To reheat, place the wrapped frozen bread in a 350° oven for 10 minutes, then open foil to expose as much crust as possible and heat for 5 more minutes.

Gourmet sandwiches made-to-order for you with fine meats and imported cheeses. Hearty soups. Fresh-from-the-oven croissants with over 37 light flaky layers. Satisfying muffins and breads. Café beverages. That's just some of the quality we promise you'll find at Au Bon Pain.

We bake throughout the day. You can even see our ovens at work in our stores. So you know what you buy at Au Bon Pain is guaranteed to be absolutely fresh. And all natural, too. We never add any preservatives, only the finest ingredients.

As for our service, we think it's as important as our food. That's why we promise to serve you in the fastest, friendliest way possible.

Obviously, we're committed to making you happy. So if you have any problems, questions or suggestions, please let us know.
