

SANDHILL CRANES, Grus canadensis; 34"-48" long, 6'-7' wingspan. Cranes fly with their necks and legs fully extended (unlike herons) and can fly as high as 13,000 feet. Often when flying, they utter a sonorous, trumpet-like sound that can be heard for miles. Sandhills breed in the marshes of northern North America and winter in the southern United States into Mexico. These omnivorous birds feed on grain, plants, insects, and frogs and congregate in large flocks during migration.

Grus canadensis

SANDHILL CRANES NC-175-175

©1995 original design by Wendy Morgan

CRANE CREEK GRAPHICS

Box 367 • Wilson, Wyoming 83014

PRINTED ON 100% RECYCLED 100% POST CONSUMER ACID-FREE PAPER

lot with a horse or in approximately forty-six years ago - and it had a for sale sign - I got my farm, however small, and Fred stayed in his city.

Through Fred I also got to know Cambridge and was able to keep in touch with its many issues, problems, and successes. I will miss that.

With warm regards,
Bobbie Norfleet

Memorial Service 3 PM March 17 at The American Academy of Arts & Sciences - Reupha St. 79 Raymond
St. afterwards

March 9, 2001

Dear Councillors Born, Sullivan, Dorney,
Braude, Davis, Decker, Galluccio, Maher, and Reeves

The family of Fred Cohn Thank you for the very lovely statement sent to us about Fred and ~~the~~ various volunteer projects he did for the city. Fred loved Cambridge and all its citizens and his one wish was to use whatever talents and time he had to help it solve its problems.

When we first married I had notions of living out in the country and having farm animals. Fred was kind enough to spend weekends looking at isolated to-be-farms with me - but he knew he would never leave Cambridge. The problem was solved when we drove by a large empty

95 S

Consent Communication #8

A communication was received from Bobbi Norfleet, transmitting thanks for the resolution adopted by the City Council on behalf of her husband Fred Cohn.

In City Council March 19, 2001

PLACED ON FILE