RESOLUTION OF GRATITUDE

ORDERED:

The Cambridge City Council hereby acknowledges on behalf of the citizens of Cambridge that Molly Miller accomplished a remarkable feat of imagination and organization as Director of the 1981 River Festival, and that she, the Cambridge Arts Council, and the Department of Public Works deserve the thanks of all for:

- a week of high spirit and fun across the length and breadth of Cambridge
- entertaining and teaching a zillion little kids
- contributing unity and comradeship to a too often put-upon urban population
- permitting hundreds of artists to share with all their pride of creation
- expanding the tastes and appetites of countless citizens
- making our City government the host to an estimated 40,000 person on the river bank on Saturday
- providing hot dogs along with the exotic foods
- proving that to settle down to Handel and the evening breezes after a strenuous day is probably as close to paradise as the Creator planned for us to get in this life
- insisting that if an illuminated barge, drifting music and candles arched over the bridge could be imagined they could not be omitted
- by dint of endless stooping and picking by the entire staff (including Molly) and the instant back up of the City Public Works employees, leaving a mile of River Bank cleaner than they found it
- for stretching, making do, wheedling, borrowing, and slight of hand, costing the city almost nothing.

EXCELSIOR!
