- A20. The MDPH uses data collected by the Massachusetts Cancer Registry to closely follow cancer incidence trends for each city and town throughout the State. Childhood leukemia incidence trends for Woburn have not been elevated in recent years.

Wells G and H have been closed since June 1979. The group of children in the Woburn population whose mothers could have potentially been exposed to the wells, are now nearly all into adulthood. Although MDPH will continue to closely follow childhood leukemia incidence in Woburn, patterns of incidence suggest that any elevation in incidence resulting from exposure to Wells G and H has already been observed.

- Q21. Where can I get more information on the Woburn Childhood Leukemia Follow-up Study?
