

City of Cambridge

(Original Order No. 27)

IN CITY COUNCIL

April 24, 1989

COUNCILLOR RUSSELL

- WHEREAS: Animal research is essential for advances in modern medicine in such areas as the treatment of heart disease, polio, sickle cell anemia, cancer, and AIDS, as well as in the development of heart surgery, insulin and polio vaccine; and
- WHEREAS: These and other important advances in basic and applied research rely upon the ability of the scientific community to use laboratory animals in medical research; and
- WHEREAS: Research institutions in Cambridge have demonstrated a record of high standards in their care and treatment of research animals; and
- WHEREAS: To impede medical research would be to put these and other medical advances at risk, to the detriment of all our citizens; now therefore be it
- RESOLVED: That the City Council applauds the contributions that local research laboratories have made to scientific progress for the betterment of human health and welfare; and be it further
- RESOLVED: That the City Council recognizes the work, commitment and dedication of those involved in medical and scientific research.

CITY OF CAMBRIDGE

27

IN CITY COUNCIL

April 24, 1989

COUNCILLOR RUSSELL

Whereas: Animal research is essential for advances in modern medicine in areas such as the treatment of heart disease, polio, sickle cell anemia, cancer, and AIDS, as well as in the development of heart surgery, insulin and polio vaccine.

Whereas: These and other important advances in basic and applied research rely upon the ability of the scientific community to use laboratory animals in medical research.

Whereas: Research institutions in Cambridge have demonstrated a record of high standards in their care and treatment of research animals.

Whereas: To impede medical research would be to put these and other medical advances at risk, to the detriment of all our citizens.

Resolved: That the City Council applauds the contributions that local research laboratories have made to scientific progress for the betterment of human health and welfare.

Resolved: That the City Council recognizes the work, commitment and dedication of those involved in medical and scientific research.

And further provided that it resolve all above is in accordance for care and concern for the animals aforementioned.

B V V

City of Cambridge

(Amended Order No. 27)

IN CITY COUNCIL

April 24, 1989

COUNCILLOR RUSSELL

- WHEREAS: Animal research is essential for advances in modern medicine in such areas as the treatment of heart disease, polio, sickle cell anemia, cancer, and AIDS, as well as in the development of heart surgery, insulin and polio vaccine; and
- WHEREAS: These and other important advances in basic and applied research rely upon the ability of the scientific community to use laboratory animals in medical research; and
- WHEREAS: Research institutions in Cambridge have demonstrated a record of high standards in their care and treatment of research animals; and
- WHEREAS: To impede medical research would be to put these and other medical advances at risk, to the detriment of all our citizens; now therefore be it
- RESOLVED: That the City Council applauds the contributions that local research laboratories have made to scientific progress for the betterment of human health and welfare; and be it further
- RESOLVED: That the City Council recognizes the work, commitment and dedication of those involved in medical and scientific research; and be it further
- RESOLVED: That all of the above is in accordance for care and concern for the animals aforementioned.

In City Council April 24, 1989.

Adopted as amended by the affirmative vote of 7 members.

Attest:- Joseph E. Connarton, City Clerk.

A true copy;

ATTEST:-

Joseph E. Connarton
Joseph E. Connarton, City Clerk.

Order #27

S-280

C.Russell re: resolutions applauding the contributions of local research laboratories to scientific progress for the betterment of human health & welfare & that this be in accord with care & concern for animals.

In City Council,

April 24, 1989

4-24-89

Order Adopted