WHEREAS: St. Bartholomew's Episcopal Church is a congregation which is well-respected in the City of Cambridge and throughout the Diocese of Massachusetts. This respect has been hard-won, resting on the small and large triumphs of the forefathers and foremothers of those who make up the congregation today; and

WHEREAS: This is a church which from its inception embodied faith, hope, charity and the zeal to struggle toward a better life and opportunities for all of those that the Church touched; and

WHEREAS: Of course, on auspicious anniversaries like St. Bartholomew's 95th Anniversary, we must harken back to the founders who history can name like John S. Brown and Mrs. Grace Manuel and those many persons who are not named in history who filled the pews, struggled to live decent lives and used their money to support the work of the local and larger church. We must also call the names of the leaders like Reverend Alexander McGuire, Reverend Walter Dorsey McClane, the Reverend James Mitchell, Reverend Kenneth de Poullian Hughes, Reverend Alvin Robinson, Reverend L. Nelson Foxx and others. History must also remember that for the last fifteen years during Reverend Foxx's tenure, the church has embraced community outreach and involvement with great fervor; now therefore be it

RESOLVED: The City of Cambridge acknowledges St. Bartholomew's Episcopal Church as a formidable religious institution in our midst. This City would not be the special place it is without the many contributions, now and over the last century, of your leaders and members. May you continue in this 21st Century to be a beacon of hope, community of faith and embodiment of God in this City. Happy 95th Anniversary, St. Bartholomew's!!!; and be it further
