

34.

May 6, 1991

MAYOR WOLF

WHEREAS: Much of the popular mystique of our country is built on the success of the individual, often over adverse situations and from disadvantaged backgrounds; and

WHEREAS: Our history is noted with people born poor who became successes, or settled in the wilderness and cleared land for a farm, emmigrated from another country or were genuine self-starters; and

WHEREAS: President Coolidge once said America's business was business millions of individuals and small groups of people, from all walks of life, have formed businesses or companies armed with dedication, an idea, or their own capital; and

WHEREAS: The twenty million small business in the United States are responsible for half of the nation's private employment, forty per cent of the national production, and much of our world renowned technology and innovation; and

WHEREAS: In Cambridge the best qualities of entrepreneurs, innovations, dedication, and service to the community are combined by our many small businesses who operate long hours, work for the betterment of the community, continue to operate in economically depressed areas, and provide a sense of contiunity in the neighborhood; therefore be it

RESOLVED: That this City Council proclaim the week of May 5 to 11th Small Business Week in Cambridge and urges all residents to take part in celebrations, including the Small Business Trade Fair at the Royal Sonesta on May 8th, and to consider the importance of small businesses in Cambridge and the United States; be it further

RESOLVED: That the City Clerk be and is hereby requested to prepare a suitably engrossed copy of this resolution for presentation to the Cambridge Chamber of Commerce on behalf of all small businesses in Cambridge.

✓14
5

City of Cambridge

34.

IN CITY COUNCIL

May 6, 1991

MAYOR WOLF

WHEREAS: Much of the popular mystique of our country is built on the success of the individual, often over adverse situations and from disadvantaged backgrounds; and

WHEREAS: Our history is noted with people born poor who became successes, or settled in the wilderness and cleared land for a farm, emmigrated from another country or were genuine self-starters; and

WHEREAS: President Coolidge once said America's business was business millions of individuals and small groups of people, from all walks of life, have formed businesses or companies armed with dedication, an idea, or their own capital; and

WHEREAS: The twenty million small business in the United States are responsible for half of the nation's private employment, forty per cent of the national production, and much of our world renowned technology and innovation; and

WHEREAS: In Cambridge the best qualities of entrepreneurs, innovations, dedication, and service to the community are combined by our many small businesses who operate long hours, work for the betterment of the community, continue to operate in economically depressed areas, and provide a sense of contiunity in the neighborhood; therefore be it

RESOLVED: That this City Council proclaim the week of May 5 to 11th Small Business Week in Cambridge and urges all residents to take part in celebrations, including the Small Business Trade Fair at the Royal Sonesta on May 8th, and to consider the importance of small businesses in Cambridge and the United States; be it further

RESOLVED: That the City Clerk be and is hereby requested to prepare a suitably engrossed copy of this resolution for presentation to the Cambridge Chamber of Commerce on behalf of all small businesses in Cambridge.

In City Council May 6, 1991.

Adopted by the affirmative vote of nine members.

Attest:- Joseph E. Connarton, City Clerk.

A true copy;

ATTEST:-

A handwritten signature in cursive script, reading "Joseph E. Connarton".

Joseph E. Connarton, City Clerk.

Order #34

NON-CONSENT

5-617

Mayor Wolf resolutions on the small businesses.

In City Council,

May 6, 1991

Order Adopted