- WHEREAS: Judy Norris has played a significant role in the Women's Movement here in Cambridge and Greater Boston since the early 1970s; and
- WHEREAS: Soon after the women's take-over of a Harvard-owned building, the Women's Center at 46 Pleasant Street was created and from those early days, Judy has volunteered her time and skills, often working there more than 6 days a week; and
- WHEREAS: For the past 32 years much of the wiring, plastering and remodeling at the Center has been done by Judy, as well as the care of the dazzling plants both in and around the Center; and
- WHEREAS: Judy assisted in the installation of the gorgeous commemorative tiles in the kitchen and living room; and
- WHEREAS: Judy has produced dotingly all the publicity concerning upcoming events and has coordinated all the mailings of the newsletters throughout these years; and
- WHEREAS: Judy's skill, patience and vast knowledge of local resources have been experienced by many of the hundreds of volunteers and interns who have volunteered at the Center; and
- WHEREAS: Judy has been one of the best fund raisers for the Center; and
- WHEREAS: Most women know that whenever they are at a rally or parade and see the Women's Center banner, it is most often held proudly at one end by Judy; and
- WHEREAS: While many women have brought great ideas to the Center, it has been Judy who stayed to implement them; and
