Jack - this is something worked-up at Ohio State where I spoke a couple of years ago. Hope it is helpful.

ALBERT H. GIROUX, JR.
Director of Public Information
Cambridge School Department
Cambridge, MA

Mr. Giroux has divided his adult years among four fields: the military, teaching, public relations in the private sector, and his present position.

He appears at the Academy as the personal representative of Dr. Mary Lou McGrath, Superintendent of the Cambridge School Department. He has been a close observer of -- and key participant in -- the "controlled choice" desegregation plan of the Cambridge School Department since its inception.

Mr. Giroux earned his B.S. degree at Boston College and his M.A. at Boston University. He also has undertaken advanced graduate study at the Harvard Business School, the University of Connecticut, and the University of Heidelberg in Germany.

After completing military service with the U.S. Army Signal Corps, Mr. Giroux taught English and social studies for the Belmont and Wilmington public schools in Massachusetts for five years.

In 1962, he became an account executive for a public relations firm in Boston and served as associate editor of the Boston Advertising Club News.

Two years later, Mr. Giroux became Manager of Public Relations for The Wall Street Journal and Dow Jones and Co. Publications in New York City.

He assumed his present position with the Cambridge School Department in 1967. In this capacity, he is responsible to the Superintendent for internal and external communications, media relations, publications, community affairs, and school district administration. He also serves as a liaison to the Cambridge School Committee.

Mr. Giroux is a member of the Educational Press Association of America, the Public Relations Society of America, the National School Public Relations Association, a number of other educational organizations, and the Massachusetts Institute of Technology Faculty Club.

A traveler, Mr. Giroux has visited Denmark, England, the Netherlands, Belgium, France, Germany, Austria, Spain, Italy, Switzerland, Canada, and the Caribbean Islands.
