Dear City Councillor,

As a senior citizen, I am endangered every day by bicyclists who disobey the law by riding on sidewalks and ignoring red-lights. I urge you to begin a citywide campaign to educate cyclists on the danger they create for all pedestrians. The impatient cyclist, who can not take the time to wait for a red-light or who refuses to ride in the street may change forever the life of any pedestrian who has the right-of-way at crosswalks or on sidewalks. The elderly, who often have problems in peripheral vision or balance, are particularly at risk when the unexpected cyclists approaches from the side or suddenly changes direction.

Sincerely yours,
