

City of Cambridge.

In Board of Aldermen, April 13, 1887.

Ordered,

That the Standing Committee on Roads and Bridges, be authorized and instructed to complete the sidewalk on the northerly side of Brattle Street, from a point seventy-one feet east of Church Street, to Fresh Pond Lane, by setting edgestones where the same may be deemed necessary, and by laying brick pavement upon said sidewalk.

The pavement of so much of said sidewalk as lies between Sparks Street and Fayerweather Street, may be laid as far as practicable, at its present level, and wherever it may be deemed necessary to lay the brick paving between said streets at a higher level than the established grade of the sidewalk, a retaining, flat or flagging stone shall be laid upon the outside of the bricks, to meet the edgestones at the established grade, so that the two stones may form steps from the street to the sidewalk.

The expense of such edgestones, bricks and flat or flagging stones as may be used in completing the aforesaid sidewalk between the point first named and Fresh Pond Lane, to be assessed upon the owners of abutting lots of land according to law.

Provided, that if, on or before the first day of June next, any of the abutters upon said sidewalk, shall elect to lay at their own expense, free of cost to the city either for material or labor, a walk in front of their premises, not less than ^{that of} the Superintendent of Streets, and shall enter into a written agreement with the city, approved by the City Solicitor that ~~they shall keep the same in repair at their own expense, and~~ whenever the city shall require a walk to be laid in place thereof, of different material or width, they will bear their proportionate share of the expense thereof as if no such ^{walk} had been laid by them; and that the laying of such walk by the abutters, shall be held in no manner to release the abutting estates from their legal charge and lien for a proportionate share of laying a future sidewalk by the city, - then such may be done by them.

The expense incurred by the city for the foregoing, to be charged to the appropriation to Street Department, (Paving.)
