WHEREAS: It has come to the attention of this City Council that Julia Bibbins has retired from the Human Services Department; and

WHEREAS: In the twenty-eight years that Judy has been working for the Department of Human Services, she has exemplified the qualities so very important in her role; first as a Community School Director and later as a Program Manager for the Community Schools Division. Judy truly understands the benefits of afterschool programs for children in the city, sets high expectations for quality and works diligently with her staff to ensure those standards are met; and

WHEREAS: As a Program Manager, Judy provided exceptional support in the area as it relates to her work with the Children's Performance Project; and

WHEREAS: As the administrative support staff person to the Children's Performance Project, a multicultural afterschool arts education program which includes the children's Dance and Theatre classes, Judy has been instrumental in leading an expansion of program offerings to over 130 children through a network of neighborhood-based dance and theatre classes with over 50% of the children enrolled receiving some scholarship assistance; and

WHEREAS: Through Judy's vision and leadership, children enrolled in these programs have flourished. Judy understands the importance of art and theatre as it relates to children's self esteem and development and works hard to draw upon resources to complement the offerings of the Performance Project; now therefore be it
