To the Honorable Cambridge City Council:

I am writing to you concerning the curfew hours that are imposed upon street performers in Harvard Square. It is my understanding that because of the complaints of a few residents of Harvard Square that the curfew is set for 11:00 P.M. on weekends.

I find this very unfortunate. The greatest beauty of Harvard Square, in my opinion, is its diversity of both people and entertainment. As street performers go, there are no more talented people than those that we are treated to in Harvard Square, and 11:00 is too early for the entertainment to end. Many of us visitors are just leaving dinner or a movie shortly before this time and are disappointed that our favorite entertainer has to pack it up just minutes after we arrive.

I think that anyone residing right in the heart of this great town should expect and tolerate a little noisy nightlife as part of living there. Otherwise, they ought to move elsewhere.

Sincerely,

Julie Saia
