CONTE-MARKEY JOINT RESOLUTION

FOR A FREEZE AND REDUCTION IN NUCLEAR WEAPONS

Whereas, the greatest challenge facing the earth is to prevent the occurrence of nuclear war by accident or design;

Whereas, the nuclear arms race is dangerously increasing the risk of a holocaust that would be humanity's final war; and

Whereas, a freeze followed by reductions in nuclear warheads, missles, and other delivery systems is needed to halt the nuclear arms race and to reduce the risk of nuclear war:

Resolved by the House of Representatives and the Senate of the United States of America and Congress assembled,

(1) As an immediate strategic arms control objective, the United States and the Soviet Union should:

(a) pursue a complete halt to the nuclear arms race;

(b) decide when and how to achieve a mutual and verifiable freeze on the testing, production, and further deployment of nuclear warheads, missles, and other delivery systems; and

(c) give special attention to destabalizing weapons whose deployment would make such a freeze more difficult to achieve.

(2) Proceeding from this freeze, the United States and the Soviet Union should pursue major, mutual, and verifiable reductions in nuclear warheads, missles, and other delivery systems, through annual percentages or equally effective means, in a manner that enhances stability.

Congress of the United States

Washington, D.C. 20515

March 8, 1982

Dear Friend:

Like many Americans, we have long been concerned with the nuclear arms race and the threat of nuclear war. We welcome the efforts of people across the country who have been involved in the nuclear freeze campaign. In our view, it is time for Congress to heed the voices of citizens concerned about the dangers of nuclear war -- which truly will be humanity's third and last world war.

We are writing to ask your support for a Resolution we are introducing in the U.S. Congress on Wednesday, March 10. This Resolution calls on the United States and the Soviet Union to seek a mutual and verifiable freeze on the testing, production and further deployment of nuclear weapons, missiles and other delivery systems, followed by major reductions in these weapons.

Senator Mark Hatfield (R-Ore.) has joined in sponsoring this Kennedy-Hatfield Resolution in the Senate, and Representatives Silvio Conte (R-Mass.) and Jonathan Bingham (D-NY) are the co-authors of the nuclear freeze and reductions Resolution in the House of Representatives. The Kennedy-Hatfield Resolution has already attracted 10 co-sponsors in the Senate from both political parties and the Markey-Conte-Bingham Resolution has already attracted over 75 co-sponsors in the House.

The time is right for the nuclear weapons freeze. The time is right to fight for it in Congress. Indeed we regard the growing threat of nuclear war as the greatest issue of our time -- and of all time. You have taken your stand, and so have we. Now we hope that you and the organizations you represent will stand with us in urging every member of Congress to support the Kennedy-Hatfield Resolution in the Senate and the Markey-Conte Resolution in the House. The nuclear freeze resolution represents a step back from the brink -- and an essential step toward mutual and verifiable nuclear disarmament.

Sincerely,

Edward M. Kennedy
U.S. Senator (D-Mass.)

Edward J. Markey
Member of Congress (D-Mass.)
