Hon J Edward Barry
Mayor of Cambridge
Dear Sir

I find that the demands upon my time are more than I can safely attempt to meet. I have therefor to ask to be relieved from further service upon the Commission to consider a new Charter. My ideas and those of the majority of the Commission are so far apart that my remaining would be of little real value This makes it a good place to secure some relief for myself without any neglect of others.

Yours respy
George G. Wright
