

City of Cambridge

1

IN CITY COUNCIL

Councillor Walsh

October 29, 1990

WHEREAS: A new president has arrived in Cambridge in the person of Charles M. Vest who, a few days ago, began his tenure as the 15th president of Massachusetts Institute of Technology; and

WHEREAS: Aside from finding himself blocked momentarily from entering his office due to a large bulletin board sealing off the door which had been strategically placed as a welcoming prank by students, President Vest settled in quickly and displays a high octane level of perception, energy and drive; and

WHEREAS: Among his quoted observations, he noted that the largest single item on the intellectual community's agenda must be " to galvanize the nation's support for investment in and development of human capital " . To participate aggressively in promoting precisely that item on the local level within the Cambridge community must be seen and accepted as an essential part and imperative of MIT's presence within the City of Cambridge; now therefore be it

RESOLVED: That this Council welcomes Charles M. Vest to Cambridge, both as President of MIT and as our new neighbor with whom we must and will work together in pursuit of both of our community's interests; and be it further

RESOLVED: That the City Clerk be and is requested to prepare a duly engrossed copy of this Resolution and transmit same as soon as possible to President Vest on behalf of this entire Council.

City of Cambridge

1.

IN CITY COUNCIL

November 5, 1990

COUNCILLOR WALSH

- WHEREAS: A new president has arrived in Cambridge in the person of Charles M. Vest who, a few days ago, began his tenure as the 15th president of Massachusetts Institute of Technology; and
- WHEREAS: Aside from finding himself blocked momentarily from entering his office due to a large bulletin board sealing off the door which had been strategically placed as a welcoming prank by students, President Vest settled in quickly and displays a high octane level of perception, energy and drive; and
- WHEREAS: Among his quoted observations, he noted that the largest single item on the intellectual community's agenda must be "to galvanize the nation's support for investment in and development of human capital". To participate aggressively in promoting precisely that item on the local level within the Cambridge community must be seen and accepted as an essential part and imperative of MIT's presence within the City of Cambridge; now therefore be it
- RESOLVED: That this City Council welcomes Charles M. Vest to Cambridge, both as President of M.I.T. and as our neighbor with whom we must and will work together in pursuit of both of our communities' interests; and be it further
- RESOLVED: That the City Clerk be and hereby is requested to prepare a suitably engrossed copy of this resolution and transmit same as soon as possible to President Vest on behalf of this entire Council.

In City Council November 5, 1990.
 Adopted by the affirmative vote of nine members.
 Attest:- Joseph E. Connarton, City Clerk.

A true copy;

ATTEST:-

A handwritten signature in black ink, reading "Joseph E. Connarton".

Joseph E. Connarton
 City Clerk

City of Cambridge

1.

IN CITY COUNCIL

~~OCTOBER 29, 1990~~

November 5, 1990

COUNCILLOR WALSH

- WHEREAS: A new president has arrived in Cambridge in the person of Charles M. Vest who, a few days ago, began his tenure as the 15th president of Massachusetts Institute of Technology; and
- WHEREAS: Aside from finding himself blocked momentarily from entering his office due to a large bulletin board sealing off the door which had been strategically placed as a welcoming prank by students, President Vest settled in quickly and displays a high octane level of perception, energy and drive; and
- WHEREAS: Among his quoted observations, he noted that the largest single item on the intellectual community's agenda must be "to galvanize the nation's support for investment in and development of human capital". To participate aggressively in promoting precisely that item on the local level within the Cambridge community must be seen and accepted as an essential part and imperative of MIT's presence within the City of Cambridge; now therefore be it
- RESOLVED: That this City Council welcomes Charles M. Vest to Cambridge, both as President of M.I.T. and as our neighbor with whom we must and will work together in pursuit of both of our community's interests; and be it further
- RESOLVED: That the City Clerk be and hereby is requested to prepare a suitably engrossed copy of this resolution and transmit same as soon as possible to President Vest on behalf of this entire Council.

City Council NOV. 5 1990

Adopted by the affirmative vote

of 9 members

Joseph E. Conforti City Clerk

Order # 1 5-1077

Councillor Walsh resolutions on Charles M.
Vest as the new President of MIT.

In City Council,

~~-October-29,-1990-~~
November 5, 1990

Order adopted