1873

City of Cambridge.

In Board of Aldermen, July 16, 1873,

The Committee on Public Property which was instructed to furnish seats in all public squares, where in their judgment the public may require the same,

Report,

That it is inexpedient to place any seats in public squares this year, as the Committee has been obliged to use a large part of the Appropriation for Public Squares in endeavoring to keep the trees alive during the present dry season. This has seemed paramount to the necessity for seats.

For the Committee.
J. H. Collins
