WHEREAS: Frank Ince was a son of Cambridge in the fullest sense; -- his life began in Cambridge and ended here on July 20, 1997. What a full life he had; and

WHEREAS: Frank Ince was a gentleman. He had great dignity and humility. His roots were here and grew deep. He was a man of great faith and during his long journey here, he truly learned that his faith and the love of God could sustain him. His legacy really is the fruits of the life he lived. He loved his wife Andrey, his children, his Church St. Paul A.M.E., and his city Cambridge. He had talents that ranged from musical to mechanical and he did not sit on any of them. He was a leader and pillar of St. Paul A.M.E. Church. Because of him we were often warm enough or cool enough on Sundays. If it "broke" in St. Paul Church, he found a way to fix it or have it fixed; and

WHEREAS: Frank had a special inner light. You noticed it when you spoke with him one on one. He listened to what you had to say. He was truly interested in the well being of others. He was very loving and showed you that real love could be announced by a smile or a hello; and

WHEREAS: Frank was a real churchman and as a St. Paul Trustee, he took his election and responsibilities very seriously. He was the model by which others patterned their trusteeship. He had good bass voice and he encouraged the men singers to be both melodic and accurate in their singing. The Chancel Choir he loved; and

WHEREAS: Frank's greatest legacy of example was his love of family. He loved and revered his wife Audrey. With them the two became one. They were inseparable. "FrankandAudrey" If you searched for a role model of a man -- here he was: a husband, father, leader, friend, guide -- a person of exemplary character -- God's man. He kept to his responsibilities supported his family, loved, nurtured his family; and

WHEREAS: Frank held onto his family. He kept on keeping on. What a remarkable man!!! Frank knew that with the circle of love that surrounded him, life, is very much worth living. Frank, thank you for your love, your witness and your example of the Christian Life -- the good life -- here in Cambridge; and

WHEREAS: Frank will be sorely missed by all he touched and loved; now therefore be it

WHEREAS: Frank's passing will leave a void in the lives of all of his surviving friends and family, his sons, Ralph and Robert; his daughter Yvonne Blackmon; his step daughter, Victoria Jenkins and his stepson Horacio F. Frank Vernon Ince
a Memorial

Frank Ince was a son of Cambridge in the fullest sense; -- his life began and ended here. What a full life he had.

Frank Ince was a gentleman. He had great dignity and humility. His roots were here and grew deep. He was a man of great faith and during his long journey here, he truly learned that his faith and the love of God could sustain him. His legacy really is the fruits of the life he lived. He loved his wife Audrey, his children, his Church St. Paul A.M.E., and his city Cambridge. He had talents that ranged from musical to mechanical and he did not sit on any of them. He was a leader and pillar of St. Paul A.M.E. Church. Because of him we were often warm enough or cool enough on Sundays. If it "broke" in St. Paul Church, he found a way to fix it or have it fixed.

Frank had a special inner light. You noticed it when you spoke with him one on one. He listened to what you had to say. He was truly interested in the well being of others. He was very loving and showed you that real love could be announced by a smile or a hello.

Frank was a real churchman and as a St. Paul Trustee, he took his election and responsibilities very seriously. He was the model by which others patterned their trusteeship. He had good bass voice and he encouraged the men singers to be both melodic and accurate in their singing. The Chancel Choir he loved.

Yet Frank's greatest legacy of example was his love of family. He loved and revered his wife Audrey. With them the two became one. They were inseparable. "FrankandAudrey" If you searched for a role model of a man -- here he was: a husband, father, leader, friend, guide -- a person of exemplary character -- God's man. He kept to his responsibilities supported his family, loved, nurtured his family.

Frank held onto his and his family. He kept on keeping on. What a remarkable man!!! Frank knew that with the circle of love that surrounded him, life, is very much worth living. Frank, thank you for your love, your witness and your example of the Christian Life -- the good life -- here in Cambridge.

WHEREAS: This City Council was deeply saddened at learning of the death of Frank V. Ince on July 20, 1997.

WHEREAS: Frank's passing will leave a void in the lives of all of his surviving friends and family, his children, his nine grandchildren and his two great-grandchildren and a host of other relatives; and friends.

WHEREAS: Frank will be sorely missed by all he touched and loved; now therefore be it

RESOLVED: That I, Kenneth E. Reeves, City Councillor for the City of Cambridge go on record extending my deepest sympathy to the family of Frank V. Ince at this time of such personal loss; and be it further

SIGNED THIS TWENTY-SEVENTH DAY OF JULY, 1997.

Kenneth E. Reeves
City Councillor
